Let’s create something

I’m Daniil, a graphic designer specializing in advertising and visual communication.
I work under the name Oversebastian and the abbreviation OVSB.
I create banners, posters, landing pages, and digital materials that help brands communicate clearly and stand out

About me

The Journey

The Beginning — Feb 2024

Growth — 2025

Today — 2026

Since 2024, I have completed more than 30 projects across different styles, formats, and levels of complexity.
My work includes advertising banners, social media visuals, posters, presentations, landing pages, and other digital materials.

I approach each project with attention to visual clarity, composition, and its communication purpose.

Selected works

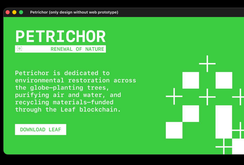

#1 Convergence

A complete visual identity and web interface concept for a freelance platform connecting clients with digital professionals.
The project combines a monochrome palette, geometric forms, pixel-inspired graphics, and a binary pattern to create a distinctive technological identity

#2 Petrichor

An eco-technology brand concept combining environmental restoration, blockchain, and digital participation.
The project includes a visual identity, responsive landing page, UI kit, and social media materials
